HONGKONO, TUERDAY, MOVEMBER 12, 1805. IT is so far satisfactory that the British communities in the Far East have now the opportunity of perusing even the rough outline of Lord Salisbury's speech at the Guild-Hall Banquet. We may go further, and say that most British residents will agree with Rauter's expression of opinion that the speech was essentially pacific. A widespread feeling exists, however, that the reticence of the Home Government is being carried very much further than usuals The Eastern Question, it is evident, has overshadowed the Par Eastern Question, and the influence of the unspeakable Turk' upon the duties and interests of the Great Powers has almost blotted out all consideration of serious events which more closely affect us in these seas. SHORTLY after four o'clock this afternoon, while Mr Godfeey Pember, Midabipman, dipolie arrived with De Knott and the patient, still unconscious, was taken to the quiry at the Hospital, we are glad to learn that Mr Pastber soon recovered consciousness and is doing well.

Ar the Magistracy this ofternoon, Mr 7 Sereombe Smith was engaged hearing eyldence and arguments in the oplam case which had been twice before the Court already and twice sent back, after appeal, from the Seprems Court. The facts of the onse should now be well known. On ... 16th June last, Constable Leonard, in his steam planance, captured a cargo boat moving four chests of Malwa oplum to respect of which the Opium Farmer had obtained removal permits. The boat people were prosecuted and convicted before Mr Wodehouser be present at the next practice, but the Upon appeal, the Supreme Court quashed the | public who have been looking forward to a conviction. The Opium Farmer was then prosecuted and acquitted by Mr Wodehouse. The police appealed to the Supreme Court, which quashed the conviction and ordered a re-hearing. Evidence having been given, Mr G. C. C. Master (Acting Crown Solicitor) contended that the Opium Farmer was responsible for the action of the boat-people, who were his servants. Mr H. L. Dennys, for the defence, argued that there was no evidence that the Opium Farmer had in any way instigated the movement of the opium during prohibited hours. His Worship reserved his decision.

We have just received an account of the Rev. A. Don's mission work amongst the Chinese in Otago. AN EXTRA-JUDICIAL SPIRIT LICENCE

At the Magistracy this afternoon, Mr T. Bercombe Smith gave judgment in an intoresting spirit case which was heard before him on the 11th inst.

Inspector Stanton presecuted the Iu Nung Shing Lee shop, 40 Bonham Strand West, for selling a jur of Chinese wine, known as fun chow.

Mr H. L. Dennys, who defended the acogsed, stated that the facts were admitted, and contended that the accountant of the shop did not know he was breaking the law. His olient held a document from Governor des Vouz which gave him liberty o deal in the intoxicating liquor wholesale, and the document was put in evidence. It road as follows :-

From the Governce of Hongkong, Sir William des Vooux, to the King Tai Loong quantities the Government will allow it and not punish you. If you want to sell by redo not get a licence you will violate the fraudulent representations of the plaintiffs W. law. 6th February, 1890. Was, then, the transact on a good musical treat will, all the same, for selling by wholesale? By the interpretation clause, 'wholesale licence' means a licence to sell intoxicating liquors by the unopened cask or cass, in quantities not unopened cask or case, in quantities not less than two gallous, &c.; &c. But here the selling was by an unopened carthenware jar. Is, then, a jor a cask or case? The word case is of very wide application, s.g., we speak of a things before? pillow case, a card case, a book case, a waich case. & These instances show that the meaning of case is a covering or protection and embraces that which encloses or contains anything. This being so, I have no difficulty in holding a ju to be a case, and consenhently, convicting defendant of an offence against the Ordinance. But as defendant puts in a document from Governor des

MEDICAL WORK AMONG CHINESI To the Editor of the 'CHINA MAIL.' Hongkong, November 12.

Sin, -The many years of European intercourse with China do not seem to have brought the Chineso much nearer to a rational treatment of the sick or wounded. At inland missionary stations the poor get free medical assistance from missionaries, and in Hangkong and some of the coast ports there are hospitals open to Chinese ; but there is absolutely nothing done towards the general practice of Western science in the homes of China's millions. The hospitals have little or no general effect on the masers, to whom the only known medical practitioners in a regular way are the miserable charm-mongers and peddlers of the fantastic and repulsive Chinese pharmacoposia.
